

Eastwood introduces the upscale AIRLINE® &™59 Custom Series

Eastwood® Guitars debuted their new AIRLINE® &™59 Custom Series guitars to rave reviews at NAMM 2009 earlier this month. The Airline &™59 Custom 2P and 3P are the first guitars in the new Airline Custom Series and have elevated the quality reputation of Eastwood Guitars to a whole new level.

The &™59 Custom guitars deliver many new features to the AIRLINE brand. These guitars feature a unique rubber binding which surrounds the entire body, and replicates the esthetics of the original Airline Res-O-Glas guitars. Additional cosmetic details include a striped pickguard, aluminum tone switch plate and available NOS Valco® knobs. Both the &™59 Custom 2P and the &™59 Custom 3P guitars are fitted with the high output Airline Vintage Voiced Single Coil pickups. These models ship in the new Vintage Style Deluxe form-fit AIRLINE hardshell case with steel plate logo.

“It has been five years since I asked our engineering team for that rubber binding”, stated Mike Robinson, President of Eastwood Guitars, “and I can say it was definitely worth the wait. Over the past six years, our AIRLINE series has built a great reputation for playability and tone, but now we are setting a new standard in guitar esthetics with the new &™59 Custom Series”.

The Airline &™59 Custom 2P is available in red and the Airline &™59 Custom 3P comes equipped with a BIGSBY® tremolo and is available in black or seafoam green. Both new models are in stock now and are shipping worldwide. See www.eastwoodguitars.com for complete details.
